

NEX PUR CABINET TYPES AND ACCESSORY

Every basic element consists of one base plate, two side panels, the back panel, one door with a ledge handle as well as two element shelves, one on the top, one on the basement. The extension element follows the same composition apart from the side panel. It is replaced by the middle side. Unevenness of the floor can be compensated with the adjustment-legs on the base plate. The shelves and internal drawers can be positioned at a distance of 6.25 cm each. Several internal drawers can be positioned above each other.
